ACADEMIC APPEALS GUIDELINES FOR STUDENTS IN THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, COLLEGE OF BUSINESS, SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND SCHOOL OF MARINE & ATMOSPHERIC SCIENCES

Students wishing to appeal an academic dismissal or a decision made by the Committee on Academic Standing and Appeals (CASA) or a hearing board of the Academic Judiciary may write to the Assistant Provost for Undergraduate Academic Affairs. When appealing a decision previously considered by committee, students should be aware that the very nature of such a request makes an approval unlikely.

Guidelines:

- Requests must be submitted in writing, either hard copy or by email (using a Stony Brook email address). Please note: A meeting with the Assistant Provost may be scheduled only after she has had the opportunity to review the written request.
- Name, ID number, phone number, preferred mailing address and Stony Brook email address must be included.
- For each type of appeal, students must provide a full statement that includes,

CASA Petition Appeals: new relevant documentation and/or information not previously reviewed by the committee.

Academic Reinstatement from Suspension: new relevant documentation and/or information not previously reviewed by the committee. Students must identify past obstacles to good academic progress and a reasonable argument for strong future performance.

Academic Reinstatement from Dismissal: evidence of academic progress and imminent promise of earning the degree. An academic plan that includes outstanding curricular and major requirements and a sample schedule the following semester in the event of reinstatement must also be included.

Judiciary Appeals: new documentation or evidence of procedural error in the hearing.
